To make this rainbow sensory writing tray, simply find a tray or a shallow box with a low edge. Cut some paper to fit inside and color stripes in rainbow order until all of the white is covered up, then stick it down to form the base.

Simply pour a very thin layer of fine salt over the top and the tray is ready to use!

What they are learning as they play:

literacy: mark making, pre-writing pattern making, early letter formation, phoneme-grapheme correspondence, name writing, physical: fine motor skills and coordination, sensory exploration
